RECTORS HAVE BEEN RESTRAINED.

Temporary Order Granted Prohibiting Newly Elected Officers From Acting.

A. ARMSTRONG PETITIONER.

alleging that the election of the directors of the Daytona Bridge Company was illegal and that the directors would interfere with the orderly running of the company and create and stir up strife in it in many ways unknown to the petitioner, B. A. Armstrong yesterday filed a petition praying for a writ of injunction.

Dr. W. P. Langworthy, W. A. Langworthy, L. G. Langworthy, F. A. Hill and H. Y. Stillman, the recently elected directors of the company. A temporary writ was granted by Commissioner J. Lee McCrory releasing the respondents from exercising their duties of directors or in any way affecting the business of the bridge company.

The petition also sets up that the respondents have given out that they intend to apply for a reduction of tolls. The bridge question is one that the general public is vitally interested in and the outcome of the injunction will be closely watched.

SEABREEZE, Feb. 9.—The many of R. M. Winfield will be interested in the following, clipped from a Pittsburg paper: "Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Quinby, of Dresden, Germany, formerly of Germany, formerly of Pittsburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Quinby, of Fon du Lac, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Quinby have lived abroad for the past nine years, and their many friends in the city will be pleased to learn of the approaching wedding, which is to be quietly solemnized in Pittsburg early in March. The bridegroom and her mother will sail today for America, and, after a short visit in New York, will come directly to Pittsburg. Mr. Winfield and his bride will leave immediately after the wedding for a trip to Honolulu and Japan. They expect to be gone about a year."

The Billie-Max figured in the usual Sunday afternoon and evening expedition up the river with a congenial party out for a pleasant time. The party took luncheon, and returned by the light of the moon.
Misses Helen Burman and Marion Hatch and Mr. Burman made a motor car trip to DeLand Saturday. The young ladies returned during the afternoon. Mr. Burman was detained by business, and enjoyed Bryan's lecture. Saturday night, returning later in company with the other delegation from Seabreeze, who made the trip to DeLand to hear Bryan. Mr. Burman reported the fine Stetson auditorium well filled, and the lecture, "The Prince of Peace," a finished literary production throughout.
Messrs. Babcock and Strech made the trip on the Constitution to Palm Beach and are expected home soon.
Mr. and Mrs. Baker, of Xenia, Ohio, and Mr. Baker's two daughters and little grandchild, are guests of Mr. Winfield at his home on Valley street. They expect to remain in the city until the latter part of the month.
Mrs. W. L. Darling, two children and mother, Mrs. Evans, of St. Paul, Minn., are pleasantly located in one of the J. G. Brown new cottages, on Pinewood avenue.

Mr. Warden and little granddaughter, Helen Holt, were over from Saturday until Monday visiting Mrs. Warden's brother, C. A. Ballough. Mr. Ballough reports a strenuous time during the cold spell with his fine orange grove but saved the fruit, even to the bananas.

E. G. Kittridge, of Volusia avenue, returned from the West Coast Sunday, a day earlier than expected, the party he was to see at Pass-a-Gille having met him at St. Petersburg and they closed a deal by Mr. which Kittridge disposed of all of his property interests in the vicinity of the first-named place.

BALL GAME IS ASSURED.
Manager Nash of the Daytona base ball team, states that a game has been arranged with the Rollins College team to be played here Wednesday afternoon at the Harrison base ball park.

To add to the entertainment, Mr. Nash proposes to have the Daytona band during the afternoon to enliven the occasion with good music.

The Modern
Seven Wonders
Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.
One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.
Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season.
Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells.
It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

The Placid, Pelucid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy ve-randa's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican perch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk sittling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.
See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.
Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their great arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extending arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elvish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.
No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

The Prince George.
Among the arrivals at the Prince George Monday were: F. H. Killinger and wife, Massillon, Ohio; Geo. T. Holisbaum and wife, Mrs. C. A. Traub, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sullivan, New York; Dr.
A. W. Gabeler, a prominent physician of Pittsfield, Mass., together with his wife and daughter, Miss Annie G. Gabeler.
A number of Prince George guests left for the South this morning, taking the steamer Constitution as far as Palm Beach. Among the party were Mrs. J.
A. Muller, Misses Kate and Matilda Muller, Mr. and Mrs. John Muller, all of New York.
A fishing party from the Prince George is down to the Inlet today in the yacht Lucile. In the party are Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Kirk, of Atlanta; Mr. Wolf, of New York city; Mrs. A. C. Nickerson, of Pauket, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D.
Filbert, of Reading, Pa.; Mrs. Hilyard and Mr. and Mrs. Holroyd, city.

A Naturalist's Excursion in Florida.

[A friend of the Daily News hands in the following letter, which is from Mr. Audubon to the Editor of The American Monthly Journal of Zoology, etc., published at Philadelphia seventy-four years ago. Written by a distinguished person when conditions were so different from the present, it can but prove of absorbing interest.]

Not a moment was to be lost; for I foresaw that the next night would be much colder still. The boat was manned once more, and off through the mud we moved, to double the point and enter the creek, of which I have already spoken, with a hope that in it we should find water enough to float her. It did happen so, and as we once more saw our bark afloat, our spirits rose, and rose to such a pitch that we in fun set fire to the whole marsh—crack, crack, crack went the reeds in the rapid blast. We saw the marsh rabbits, etc., scampering from the fire by the thousands as we pulled our oars. Our pleasure at being afloat did not last long. The north-easter, had well nigh emptied the creek of all its usual quantum of water; and to wade and push our boat over many a shallow was again our resort, with intent to making a landing, from which we could gain the sea beach. We did effect a landing at last. The boat was abandoned at last, and game fastened to the backs of the negroes, the gun-reloaded, and on we proceeded through the marsh first, and then the tangled palmettoes and scrubby live oaks, until we reached the sea beach.

The sea beach of East Florida, have you ever seen it? If not, I advise you strongly never to pay a visit to it, under the circumstances that brought myself and companions to it yesterday morning. We saw the ocean spread before our eyes, but it looked angry and ruffy, strewn with high, agitated waves, that came in quick succession toward the desolate, naked shore; not an object in view but the pure sky and the agitated waters. We took up our line of march in poor plight, believe me. The Poles, on laying down their arms, could not have felt more done up than we did at this moment. Pretty walking along the seaside beach of Florida in the month of December, with the winds at northeast, and we going in its very teeth through sand that sent our feet back six inches at every step of the two feet that we made. Well, through this sand we all waded for many a long mile, picking up here and there a shell that is no where else to be found, until we reached the landing place of J. J. Bulow. Now, my heart cheer up once more for the sake of my most kind host, troubled with rheumatic pains as he is. I assure you I was glad to see him wearing his own comfortable roof; and as we saw the large house opening to view, across his immense plantation, I anticipated a good dinner with as much pleasure as I ever experienced.

All hands returned alive; refreshments and good care have made us all well again, unless it be the stiffness occasioned in my left leg, by nearly six weeks of wading through the vilest thickets of scrubby live oaks and palmettoes, that appear to have been created for no purpose but to punish us for our sins; thickets that can only be matched in the extent of your favorite Dante.

To give you an account of the little I have seen of East Florida would fill a volume, and therefore I will not attempt it just now but I will draw a slight sketch of part of it.

The land, if land it can be called, is generally so very sandy that nothing can be raised upon it. The swamps are the only spots that afford a fair chance for cultivation; the swamps then are the only places where plantations can be found, these plantations are even few in number, along the coast from St. Augustine to Cape Canaveral there are about a dozen. These, with the exception of two or three, are yet young plantations. General Hernandez, J. J. Bulow and Mr. Durham's are the strongest and perhaps the best. Sugar cane will prosper and perhaps do well, but the labor necessary to produce a good crop is great, great, great. Between the swamps of which I speak, and which are found along the margin lying west of the sea inlet, that divides the main land from the Atlantic, to the river St. John of the interior of the peninsula nothing exists but barren pine lands of poor timber and immense savannas mostly overflowed and all unfit for cultivation. That growth, which in any other country is called underwood, scarcely exists; the land being covered with low palmettoes or very low, thickly branched dwarf oaks, almost impenetrable to man. The climate is of a most unsettled nature, at least at this season. The thermometer has made leaps from 30 to 89 degrees in 24 hours; cold, warm, sandy, muddy, watery—all of these varieties may be felt and seen in one day's traveling.
